AEA Group to Ignore an ALC Directive

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Board of Education, ignoring a critical resolution of the Arkansas Legislative Council, went to Pine Bluff this morning to inspect a proposed site for the state's first vocational school.

The board was scheduled to stop next at Camden and tomorrow at Magnolia. The three cities were the final choices from a group which bid for the $500,000 institution.

The visits are against the wishes of the Legislative Council, which said Friday that the intent of the 1957 legislative act authorizing the school was that it be located at Little Rock.

Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said, however, that "the board interprets the act as giving it authority to select the site for the school" and "will be glad to be advised" if it is wrong.

On the agenda today for the board was an inspection of a 10-acre tract adjacent to the Pine Bluff municipal airport. The land would be donated if the board selects Pine Bluff.

Next, Camden was to show its wares, which include seven buildings on grounds within the now-inoperative Shumaker Naval Ammunition Depot. The chamber of commerce at Camden estimated the total value of the facilities at "well over one million dollars."

Camden also offered two alternative 10-acre sites — either to be provided to the state without cost.

Magnolia has three sites to show the board. One is near Southern State College.

Twenty-four cities and towns had bid for the vocational-technical school.

The 1957 act authorizes one such school for each congressional district, but funds for only one school were appropriated this year.

Condition of Frank McGibbony Critical

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The condition of State Police Capt. Frank McGibbony, who fell under the wheel of an automobile he was pushing last Wednesday, was reported still critical by hospital attendants here today.

McGibbony suffered severe chest injuries when he slipped under the car in the driveway of his home while helping his son push the vehicle.

Hospital attendants said his condition worsened Friday.

2 Hempstead Women Attend HD Session

Mrs. Lester Kent, Route 1, Hope, and Mrs. Lorraine B. Wylie, Hope, returned Thursday evening from Fayetteville where they attended the 29th annual meeting of the Arkansas Council of Home Demonstration Clubs August 13-15.

The highlight of the opening session of the meeting was a fashion revue entitled "What's Your Line?" Forty-five smart models dressed in self-made originals took part in the revue.

Commentary by Mrs. Cora Lee Guthridge, Extension Clothing Specialist, emphasized the importance of choosing the right line for figure flattery. Mrs. Kent took part in the revue.

One of the highlights of Wednesday night's general assembly was a presentation "A Visit to Panama" by Phoebe Harris, Miss Harris, who spent four years in Panama doing Extension work, gave a very graphic picture of the native costumes, showed slides of the Capitol, Panama City, and of typical farm and home activities.

The program was capped off with the typical music and dances and the singing of the National Anthem of Panama. Panamanian students attending the University of Arkansas assisted in the program.

Other program interests included the open house and tea at the Girls 4-H House and talks by Dr. John Tyler Caldwell, President of the University of Arkansas; Captain Jack Rhea, Arkansas Police Department; and Kenneth S. Bates, Assistant Director, Agricultural Extension Service.

The 1958 meeting will be held at Southern State, Magnolia, August 12-15.

Mr. Klipsch will speak at a session on stereo problems. Other topics to be discussed at the five-day conference include disc and tape recording, studio acoustics, electronic music, artificial reverberation, transistors, audio application problems, and FM audio reception. Pro-Soviets in Syria Takes Over the Army

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Volatile Syria apparently moved closer to the Communist bloc today as pro-Soviet officers purged rightists from the politically powerful army.

Gen. Afif Blazy, known throughout the Middle East as the most extreme leftist in Syria's army, took control of the army over the weekend, usually reliable sources said.

Blazy, 43, a known Communist, immediately began to purge right-wing opponents. Thirteen officers were fired or resigned in Damascus and a number fled to Beirut.

While Premier Sabri Assal's Moscow-oriented government did not seem to have been strengthened by President Shukri Kuwattli's professed neutrality between East and West — already, cloudy behind Russian arms deals — became a little more indistinct.

Kuwattli had once threatened to resign rather than let Communist supporters take complete control of the army. But the weekend's virtual coup d'etat by leftists came with formal approval of the sick President.

Kuwattli signed a presidential decree Saturday, jumping Blazy from lieutenant colonel to general and making him army commander-in-chief and chief of staff, an official announcement said.

Then, amid rumors that Kuwattli had resigned — which Assal denied — the President flew to Egypt yesterday. In Cairo for the third time in six months, he talked with Egyptian President Nasser for more than an hour.

The Syrian and Egyptian armies are united under the joint command of an Egyptian officer and both are heavily stocked with Soviet arms. But Nasser has kept his own Communists suppressed.

Purpose of Kuwattli's trip was officially announced as a medical checkup in Alexandria. He flew to Alexandria after seeing Nasser and went to a hospital.

Louis Crain New Deputy Prosecutor

Louis Crain has been named deputy prosecuting attorney for Hempstead County. The appointment made late last week by Prosecutor Travis Mathis.

Mr. Crain replaces C. V. Nunn Jr., whose deputyship was revoked last week by Mr. Mathis who said other activities kept Mr. Nunn from devoting enough time to the office.

Mr. Crain took over duties this morning in state court while Mr. Nunn continues to take care of city cases.

DESCRIBE ORDEAL IN TRUNK — Almer Carl Wagner, 21, shows how he and his 18-year-old wife, were locked in the trunk of their own car by James Richard Esson, an escaped lifer, who they had picked up on the highway. The Wagners, en route from their home in Evansville, Ind., to Schilling Air Force Base in Salina, Kan., picked up Esson, who escaped from the London (O.) Prison Farm in May of 1955, about 65 miles west of St. Louis. Esson later beat Wagner, attempted to rape his wife, and later locked them both in the trunk of the car. Wagner tried to open the trunk lid outside of Kansas City and attracted the attention of a passing motorist who informed police. — NEA Telephoto

Construction Blast Kills 3 Workers

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP) — An explosion tore through a tunnel cut in rock 100 feet below Lake Ontario and killed three construction workers yesterday. The blast turned the 6,250-foot tunnel into a gas-filled death trap that claimed another worker's life today.

The fourth man was overcome as he worked with a crew trying to bring out the bodies of the three blast victims early this morning.

State Group Checks Rumors About Chaffee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas members of Congress said today they had checked into reports that the Army may curtail operations there or shutdown Ft. Chaffee, near Fort Smith, Ark., but learned nothing definite.

Chaffee, designated an Army fort only a year ago, is a recruit training center and home station for about 14,000 Army personnel.

35 Cars Burn in Wreck at Gilmore

GILMORE (AP) — Repair crews labored today to restore a section of track ruined when 35 cars of a Frisco freight train, some of them oil tankers, jumped the track and burst into flame.

No one was hurt in the pileup. Firemen from four towns quelled the blaze in about three hours, laying hose along nearby U.S. Highway 63 and pumping water from a drainage ditch.

Frisco officials said they would be unable to determine the cause of the crash until an investigation is completed. Damage was officially estimated at more than $200,000.

Ten of the freight cars, several loaded with diesel fuel or propane gas, were involved in the fire, which raised a column of all black smoke visible for 10 miles.

Truffle on Highway 63, which parallels the track at the derailment point, was blocked while firemen fought the blaze.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Contracts for construction of 232 miles of the interstate system of super-highways were awarded during July, the Bureau of Public Roads announced today. The total cost of this work is estimated at 122 million dollars, or about $525,000 a mile.

The vast road building project now underway calls for a 41,000-mile interstate system, linking 50 per cent of all American cities of 50,000 population or more with limited access divided highways.

The highway act of 1956 assumed completion of the network in 12-15 years, at a total cost of 27½ billion dollars. Rising prices, however, appear certain to raise the total cost. At the same time, income for the highway trust fund, which finances the road building through special taxes on gasoline, tires etc., is running below previous estimates. Highway officials now believe it will take 16 or more years to complete the job.

The contracts awarded during July include work on overpasses, bridges and cloverleafs. Thus, today's announcement does not mean work on 232 miles of actual highway building will soon be underway.

A state-by-state summary of construction contracts advertised, awarded, or underway but not completed includes:

Dulles in Appeal for Restoration of Aid Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles told senators today that "the whole foundation of our security structure is endangered" by the House cut of $500,000,000 in the foreign aid appropriations bill.

If Congress is unwilling to provide the funds to help allies maintain their defenses, Dulles said, "we face a new insecurity and a future of grave risks."

"The Senate faces a great responsibility to save the nation from this peril," Dulles headed a team of four top administration figures bidding at a meeting of the Senate Appropriations Committee for upward revision of the House-passed bill.

Accompanying him to the session were John B. Hollister, outgoing foreign aid director; Adm. Arthur W. Radford, retired chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Radford's successor.

Before the session began, Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) told newsmen he would try to put Congress on record as favoring a requirement that nations receiving economic loans must make some annual repayment.

Mundt said he has drafted a proposal to require annual repayments on any loans made from a two-year economic development fund Congress has authorized.

"I think we should establish the principle that these loans are going to be repaid," Mundt said. "I am not particular how much money is paid back annually and I am perfectly willing to agree to some emergency exceptions."

"But it will be better for us and for the recipient countries if they understand from the beginning that they must meet the annual interest payments and at least make a token payment on the principal."

"I don't think we should permit a situation to arise where a country that has received a loan can go along for three or four years without paying on either interest and principle and then ask that both be canceled. That sort of thing is bad psychology from both their standpoint and our own."

Monday Can Be a Good Day—So Says Mr. Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people who believe in the old philosophy about here today and gone tomorrow sometimes wonder whether Monday is the day to be here.

They are prisoners of the wrong kind of thinking.

Any day is a good day to be in this world, and Monday, if a man approaches it with the right attitude, is as good a day as any other to appreciate life—if that's the kind of a thing a fellow enjoys, as most people do.

The trouble with Monday is that it is the least welcome day of the week for hereditary reasons. Every day inherits Monday. It runs in every family. If you check ever family, all the way back to Adam, you will find that somewhere amid the by bones of the skeleton in the closet is a hidden Monday.

Too many people think of Monday as a lump of lead to tomorrow that follows a livid weekend. They would break the back of the surly camel by trying to make him tote the straw reminders of yesterday's hay, reaped in the weekend sunshine.

This is the wrong attitude. Monday, approached moderately and with a constructive attitude, is not so much the dismal morning twilight of an epic essay into living, as it is a bugle call of adventure.

Yes, that is the way to regard Monday—as the bright doorway to another good clean week of opportunity.

It is the golden portal to tomorrow, which, (accept the eternal day's promise) is good old gladsome Tuesday. And after Tuesday comes mellow Wednesday, Thursday with a hint of harvest, and again another Friday, sure as at any time, but not without its admirers.

Move Made to Advance Right
Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Northern Democrats moved today to pry the civil rights bill out of the House Rules Committee. But Republicans held aloof in hopes of getting a measure closer to President Eisenhower's program.

Four Democrats on the 12-member rules group planned to present a formal written demand for a meeting of the committee to take up the bill.

With four of the committee members being Southern Democrats bitterly opposed to civil rights legislation, the Northern Democrats needed the help of at least three of the four GOP members of the committee to force the bill to the House floor for action.

But for the moment at least, the Republicans were reported withholding support.

GOP strategy reportedly was to utilize the Republican balance of power on the committee to seek concessions from the Northern Democrats who want the House to accept the Senate civil rights bill with a jury trial amendment narrowed to voting rights cases.

The House originally passed a bill that conformed generally to Eisenhower administration proposals. It would give the attorney general authority to seek federal court injunctions against violations of civil rights in general. Persons violating such injunctions could be jailed by a judge for contempt and there would be no jury trial.

The Senate stripped from the bill the general civil rights authority and limited the injunction provision to voting rights cases. Then it wrote in a requirement that jury trials must be granted in most criminal contempt cases. This requirement would apply not only to voting rights cases but to a wide range of cases having nothing to do with civil rights.

The Eisenhower administration is strongly opposed to this jury trial provision in criminal contempt cases, claiming it would hinder judges in enforcement of their orders and hamper federal regulatory agencies.

Some House Democrats, including a number of Northerners favoring a stronger measure than the Senate bill, have indicated a willingness to settle now for the Senate version with the jury trial amendment limited to voting rights cases. Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.) has proposed a compromise along this line.

Late last week, all signs indicated that the Republicans were ready to throw in the sponge and accept the proposed Democratic compromise.

But after House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts conferred with Eisenhower Saturday, the Republican position appeared to harden.

Martin told newsmen after the White House conference that Eisenhower still is not in favor of the proposed compromise.

"There is no weakening in our position," Martin said. "We want a bill as first proposed by President Eisenhower that will adequately protect the voting rights of millions of our citizens."

Martin mentioned a civil rights proposal of his own, but he declined to say what it involved.

Some Democrats still spoke hopefully of getting the bill to the floor for action by next Thursday, but the apparently stiffened Republican stand clouded the prospect.

After the filing of the written request for a Rules Committee meeting, the group's chairman, Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.), has three days to take action on it.

At the end of that time—Thursday in this case—a majority of the committee members can force a meeting. Such a meeting could be held immediately, and the bill cleared for House action shortly afterward. But if the Northern Democrats cannot muster a majority at that time, there is no telling how long the stalemate may last.

Bell to Expand
at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, (UP) Plans for a $1,500,000 expansion in the Jonesboro telephone system were unveiled here today by R. L. Bankson, general commercial manager of Southwestern Bell Arkansas at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

Bankson said the equipment would be the latest thing in modern equipment. He said the equipment—known as "crossbar"—would handle a greater volume of calls.

Bankson said work will begin on a new building to house the equipment. He said most of the money would be used for equipment, wires and cables.

The conversion to crossbar is scheduled for completion late next year. It will bring long distance calling to the customers and more calls in shorter time to the six thousand customers in Jonesboro. Only two other cities in Arkansas are equipped with the crossbar system. They are Pine Bluff and West Memphis. Blytheville is scheduled for conversion in 1960.

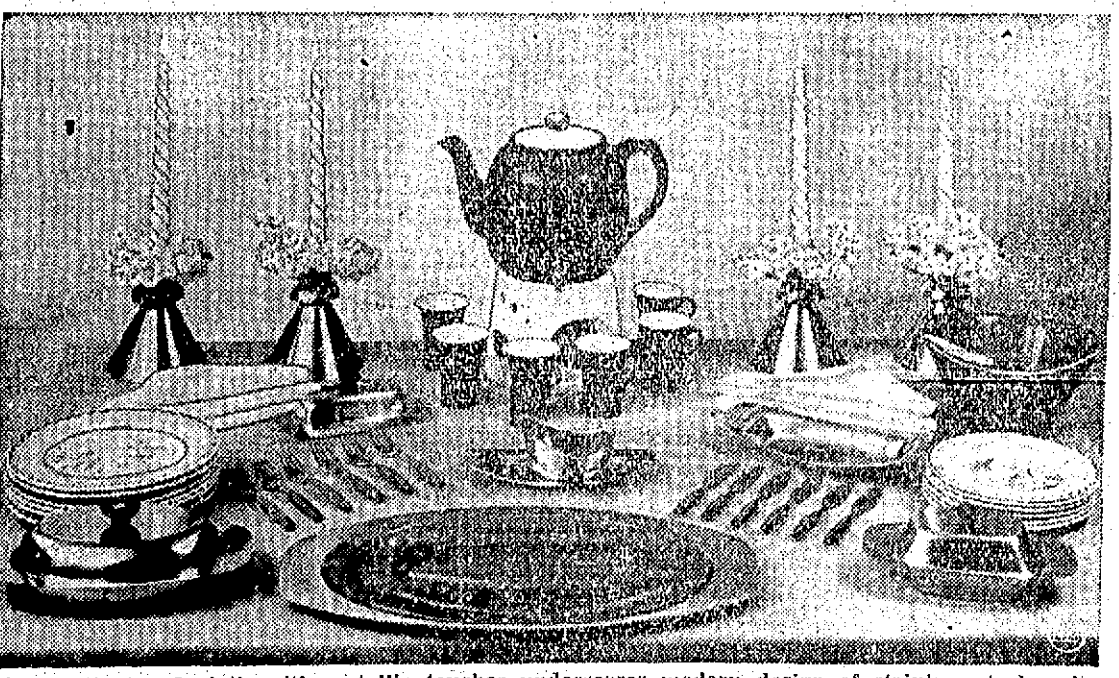

Other than Latin and Greek, some American universities teach such ancient languages as Akkadian, Avestan, Coptic, Gothic, Hittite, Hurrian, Ossetian, Sanskrit, Sumerian, Ugaritic and Umbrian.

Paste wax protects clean brass candlesticks. Old-fashioned tarnish remover of lemon and salt still works on copper utensils. Modern pieces like kettle can be protected with lacquer.

Smooth-surfaced rubber tile floor in terrazzo pattern, installed both indoors and out, ties this outdoor family room to indoor area. Terra cotta colors are background for redwood-and-canvas furniture, green plantings. High fence provides wind protection, makes safe play enclosure.

Heavy-textured cloth with metallic touches underscores modern design of stainless steel and wood flatware and serving pieces. Patterned china and ceramic coffee urn and tumblers add color. In place of centerpiece, candlesticks are ringed with flowers, lined up across back of table.

DOROTHY DIX
Mixing Business and Pleasure
Can Be Home Wrecking Pursuit

Dear Dorothy Dix: Until six months ago we had one of the happiest marriages on earth. We had three children, a lovely home, security, financially and emotionally. Now everything is smashed to bits. My husband is a builder, and several months ago contracted to build a house for a newcomer to town—a widow. She called my husband for many conferences about the house; they saw each other constantly, and are now having an affair. My husband doesn't even pretend to love her; he assures me I'm the most wonderful woman in the world—but spends almost all of his time with her. I've been keeping up a front for the children's sake, but don't know how much longer I can go on.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a housewife with two small youngsters. My problem is my husband's loyalty to his friends. He gets invited out too often during the week, and stays out too late. He has told me I'd never keep him from going out with his buddies, although I'm not allowed out until he can take me. He's a good provider.

Dear Desperate: You and your husband both seem to think that when a woman annexes a "Mrs." to the front of her name she relinquishes all rights as a human being. "It ain't so, girl! But your pretty little foot down and insist on equal time out. Your husband supports the household; you take care of it. The jobs are equally important and both parties rate the same privileges. Woo him away from his buddies by making yourself, the children and home so attractive that he'll want to stay there."

Third suggestion is to get an outside ally to talk up the advantages of home life; and finally, get the buddies married off.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

Doctor Sets
Record, 21
Miles High

BRainerd, Minn., (UP) — An Air Force doctor has soared to nearly 21 miles into the sky to set a new manned balloon altitude record.

The large but frail balloon had reached an altitude of 110,000 at 11:30 a.m. (CST), two hours after takeoff. It had exceeded the old record of 96,000 feet sometime between 11 and 11:30 a.m.

The balloon rose nearly vertically from its take-off site in an iron mine pit near Crosby, Minn., at peak altitude, the balloon was three and a half miles southeast of Garrison, Minn. Garrison is about 10 miles southeast of Crosby.

Inside a tiny capsule swaying beneath the bulky balloon, Maj. David G. Simons had been sealed a few hours earlier. Simons, chief of the space biology branch of the aero-medical field laboratory at Holloman Air Development Center, Alamogordo, N. M., will be aloft approximately 32 hours. During that study in view of economy steps but that no decision has been made. They said there may be some announcement within two weeks.

Trumble said that "I am very hopeful that we will be able to retain Ft. Chaffee in operation." There have been reports on Capitol Hill for several days that the Army has in mind closing several of its installations and is particularly eyeing half a dozen which only last year were designated as forts, the intention at that time presumably being to give them a permanent status.

Chaffee was included in this group.

The Army did not request any construction funds for new facilities at Ft. Chaffee this year. There also has been some delay in construction of new housing at Chaffee.

time, he will perform tests and conduct various observations relative to studies of man's adaptability to space travel.

The flight was delayed an hour when a long sleeve-like apparatus encasing the balloon became snarled. Workers freed it, and the flight was under way.

We would like to express our deepest appreciation for the sympathy, help and kindness shown to us, not only at this time of great sorrow, but during the past years of illness of our loved one.

Cardinals Win Pair to Cut Milwaukee's Lead

By FRED DOWN
UP Sports Writer

They say lightning never strikes twice in the same place but the Milwaukee Braves know better today after it struck County Stadium three times — once literally and twice in the form of Stan Musial and Vinegar Bend Mizell.

A sharp bolt of the "real thing" hit the stadium during the second inning of yesterday's opener with the St. Louis Cardinals and before the day was ended Musial and Mizell struck too to produce an 8-6 and 6-0 sweep that cut the Braves' national league lead to 6 1/2 games.
Thus, the Cardinals "bruised" the Milwaukee runaway and raised the possibility that there may yet be a close pennant race.

The New York Yankees, meanwhile, seemed to be making good on their long-predicted runaway threat in the American League when they swept the Baltimore Orioles, 7-0 and 3-2, to open up a 7 1/2 game margin — their longest of the season. The second-place Chicago White Sox cooperated by dropping a 1-1 decision before beating the Detroit Tigers, 4-1.

The Chicago Cubs dealt the Cincinnati Redlegs their sixth straight setback, 8-2, the New York Giants beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-4 and 1-0, and the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-6, after a 2-1 defeat in the other National League games.

The Washington Senators whipped the Boston Red Sox, 6-1, and the Cleveland Indians defeated the Kansas City Athletics, 9-2, in American League single games.

The Cardinals rallied for six runs in the last three innings of the 10-inning opener, Musial cut-maxing the comeback with a two-run homer, and then led all the way behind Mizell's four-hitter in the nightcap.

Musial had two hits in each game to regain the N. L. batting lead with a .333 mark and his 2-333 hits now place him 11th on the all-time list. Mizell's victory was his fifth of the year and the first since July 29.

Bob Rush pitched an eight-hitter with a homer and double to lead the Cubs to their sixth straight win.

Frank Sauer smashed two homers to spark the Giants to their opening-game triumph and Al Worthington hurled a three-hitter to complete the sweep.

Duke Snider's 30th homer, a two-run shot in the seventh inning, gave Sal Maglie the nod over Bob Friend, who yielded only two hits, but the Pirates scored four runs against Clem Labine in the eighth to take the nightcap. Snider also homered in the second game and now has at least 30 homers in each of the last five seasons.

Yogi Berra knocked in two runs with two singles and a double in the first game and drove in all three Yankee runs with two singles in the nightcap. Tom Sturdivant hurled a five-hitter for his 11th win and Don Larsen picked up his seventh win aided by Bob Grim's relief.

Dick Donovan scattered eight hits and won his sixth straight decision and 14th of the year for the White Sox after Frank Lary pitched and batted the Tigers to victory in the opener.

Roy Sievers' grand slam homer lifted the Senators to their triumph over Frank Sullivan and the Red Sox, with Truman Cleveland earning his sixth win for the senators. Al Smith led Cleveland's 11-hit attack with three hits as Cal Mc-Cluskey went the distance for his sixth triumph. Hal Smith had two hits for the Athletics.

YOUTH IS SHOT
While Hunting
for Rabbits

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Clyde Grayson, 17, was shot to death yesterday while rabbit hunting with two friends, but Sheriff Harlow Wright said no effort will be made to determine which boy fired the fatal shot.

"The boys are torn up enough about it now and if we found out now it would just make the one that did it feel worse," Wright said.

Grayson, an Armon Carter Riverside High School senior, was hunting with Bill Lawrence, 15, and Phillips Johnson, 15, in a pasture about five miles east of Watauga.

Lawrence and Johnson were returning to Grayson's car along a fence line when a rabbit broke cover and ran.

Wright said the two boys thought Grayson was behind them, but he had circled and was in the line of fire concealed by scrub oak when both Lawrence and Johnson fired at the rabbit.

Grayson then fell into view, shouting he had been shot. One bullet penetrated his right side.
The two boys rushed him to a hospital. He was dead on arrival.

Hope Star Newsboys Explore Lake Ouachita in Four Boats on the Newspaper's Annual Outing

About this time each year Hope Star is host to its carrier boys on an outing to either the mountains or one of the big lakes. On one occasion the crew visited Camp Albert Pike, and they have been to Lake Greaser (The Narrows, to you) on several trips — but this year they explored Lake Ouachita, largest lake wholly contained in Arkansas, with a shoreline of 800 miles.

The expedition left here in four cars at 8:30 Sunday morning and returned home at 9:45 p. m. They traveled 75 miles on Lake Ouachita in four boats, picnicked on the public grounds at Brady Mountain Lodge — and saw the sailing regatta which is held every Sunday at 2:30 off Brady Mountain.

UN to Take Up Hungry Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. today called a special session of the General Assembly for Sept. 10 to debate the Hungarian problem.

The Assembly president, Prince Wan Wattayakorn of Thailand, notified the 51 member nations of the decision this morning after pulling members of the Assembly Steering Committee.

The special assembly meeting just a week ahead of the regular 1957 session, will be concerned primarily with the 150,000-word report of the U. N.'s committee of inquiry which blasted Russia for its brutal suppression of last fall's Hungarian uprising.

The village of Santa Cruz, New Mexico has a legal name that will make you lose your breath. Its full title is: La Villa Nueva de Santa Cruz de los Espanoles Mojicanos del Rey Nuestro Senor Carlos Segundo.

Rackets Probe Needs Money, McClellan Says

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON, Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today that the Senate Rackets committee urgently needs an additional $150,000 to continue its investigations.

McClellan made an appeal to the Senate for the funds as his committee prepared to question Elmer Mohr, aide to Tammany president Dave Beck, at an afternoon session about the New York labor-racketeer alliance.

McClellan told the Senate that the magnitude of the task assigned to his group "greatly exceeds anything that was contemplated at the time the committee was created."

He said the committee already has found that "unscrupulous" union officials and trustees are robbing dues-paying members and that in some instances, management has entered into collusion with corrupt labor leaders.

McClellan coupled his Senate speech with a letter to Rules Committee Chairman Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) asking that the $150,000 be added to the $300,000 previously voted for the investigations.

The Arkansas Democrat declared that hearings conducted thus far on "seven major subjects" constitute "just the beginning of our inquiry into the affairs of the union."

He said investigations to date "have proved most fruitful in revealing conditions which require remedial legislation," including revision of the Taft-Hartley Act.

McClellan added: "The economic savings to the citizens, to the consuming public, and the government of the United States resulting from the elimination of racketeering costs in construction work, in foodstuffs, and other everyday necessities, will far outweigh any monies expended by this committee."

He said the committee plans five or six additional series of public hearings this year and hopes to have legislative recommendations ready when Congress reconvenes in January.

James R. Hoffa, midwest boss of the Teamsters and heir apparent to Dave Beck as president of the giant union, also is slated to testify before the Senate Rackets Committee tomorrow, or possibly late today.

No Closer to Special Meet Says Fabus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus today said that the state is "no closer" to a special session of the Legislature than it was a month ago.

Faubus told a news conference that he still has not made up his mind whether such a session would be needed in connection with a current financial shortage facing the Highway Department.

He said "some progress" had been made toward determining the facts on which a decision would be based.

The governor declined to elaborate on repeated former statements that he did not favor a session unless some plan were evolved beforehand on which the Highway Commission and a majority of the legislators could agree.

The Highway Commission last month announced that later this year contractors temporarily might be asked to accept partial payments until construction funds for the current fiscal year begin to accrue.

The commission first said that it had no assurance full payments could be made after Aug. 15 but he "cutoff" date later was changed until at least Sept. 15.

The commission also said that it needs additional funds to assure that all federal matching funds may be met as they become available.

But it said also that there is no indication now that the state will lose any federal matching money.

Faubus said six or eight legislators — out of a total of 135 — had urged him to call a special session but that most of the Senate and House members who had talked to him indicated they wanted one only if some definite plan could be agreed to in advance.

Faubus said that no member of the legislature had insisted to him that a session not be called under any circumstances.

On other subjects the governor said:

It was his understanding that the electrocution of Negro rapist Luther Bailey which he had set for Aug. 30 had been automatically postponed by steps to appeal the death sentence to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Faubus said the Arkansas Supreme Court had recalled a mandamus once issued to his office on the death sentence.

He has not decided whether to order a new mental examination for convicted slayer Emmett Earl Leggett, also scheduled to be electrocuted Aug. 30.

Leggett's attorney has asked for such an examination even though State Hospital psychiatrists testified at his trial for the strangulation slaying of 14-year-old Joe King that he is sane.

Faubus said he would have to confer with unidentified legal advisers before making a decision.

No date has been set for a meeting of the anti-integration State Sovereignty Commission, whose authority was attacked in a federal court suit filed Friday.

The governor said he had no idea when the commission, of which he is an ex-officio member, would hold its first meeting.

Bulletin

NEW YORK, (UP) — The board of directors of the New York Giants baseball club voted today to transfer the team to San Francisco for the 1958 season.

Club president Horace Stoneham board had approved the San Francisco offer by eight votes to one. He declined to name the opposing vote.

"The transfer is subject to approval of the contract to be drawn up by San Francisco but as the contract originally was outlined to us it was very favorable," Stoneham said.

Stoneham added that he probably would go to San Francisco "sometime next week."

"As soon as they get the word from us, they will draw up an official contract," Stoneham said.

The Giants president said a stadium seating 45,000 would be built by the city at Bay View Park, probably to be ready for the 1958 season.

By The Associated Press

All three occupants were thrown from the car.

A spokesman for The Southern Cotton Oil Co. mill at Newport said George Childress of Newport was injured fatally while the Negro and a fellow employee were "playing around" with an air compressor hose.

Childress underwent surgery to release air which had been pumped into his body but he died a short time later in a Newport hospital. He is survived by his widow and six children.

Wants Change in Present Draft Ages

By EDWIN B. HAKKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) said today he will ask Congress to raise the present minimum draft induction age from 18½ years to 20 and lower the maximum age from 28 to 25 years.

"We have such a large manpower pool now that we are making an unwarranted period of liability on the civilian population," Case said in an interview. He is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Case said his proposals will be offered as an amendment to a House-passed bill. This will would give the military services authority to reject thousands of men in the lower intelligence category. The services now are compelled by law to take most men in this group.

Pentagon officials, particularly Army leaders, are pushing for Senate approval of this Draft Act change but the Senate committee delayed action after a public hearing Friday.

Recent monthly draft calls have been as low as 7,000, or at an annual rate of 84,000 men. These calls have been getting smaller because of cutbacks in armed service strength and because of a large number of volunteers.

Case developed testimony that the present pool of available draftees is about 1,300,000 young men and that it is increasing by 200,000 each year.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, said the average age of inductees now is between 22 and 23 years. Local draft boards are instructed to take the older eligibles first.

Case said his proposal "would remove uncertainty from the lives and plans of millions of young men and their families."

Defense Calls in Maureen's 'Latin Lover'

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD, (UP) — The defense disclosed it will call to the stand today the "Latin Lover" Confidential magazine says wooed Actress Maureen O'Hara in a trust in Row 35 of Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Defense Counsel Arthur Crowley (identified the heretofore "mystery witness" as Enric Parra, a businessman of Mexico City who was accused in 1955 by Miss O'Hara's ex-husband of "openly living and consorting" with his former wife in the presence of their daughter.

The defense move in the criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines posed the possibility of a face-to-face meeting in court of the flame-haired actress and her alleged boyfriend.

Parra was named in a suit brought in June 1955 by Television was seeking custody of his daughter, Bronwyn Bridget Price, on grounds Miss O'Hara was an "unfit mother."

The suit described Parra as a married man with two grown daughters and said Parra was then in Los Angeles "either living in Miss O'Hara's home or being seen there frequently."

The Irish-born actress and Price were divorced in Aug. 11, 1953.

Crowley had alleged the Grauman love-making scene took place in November of 1953 "or thereabouts—give or take a couple of months or so."

Confidential's story, titled "It was the hottest show in town when Maureen O'Hara cuddled in Row 35 with her Latin boy friend" and testimony about it in the trial last week touched off legal attacks and counter-attacks.

Miss O'Hara abandoned a vacation and rushed to Los Angeles ready to take the stand for the prosecution to refute the story, which she resolutely denied. She angrily boosted a 1 million dollar libel suit against the magazine to 5 million. She said she was in Europe making a movie when the alleged incident took place.

The first witness as a trial resumed today after a weekend recess during which another potential witness in the trial met death by sleeping pills was James Craig, the assistant manager of Grauman's who spread the spicy tale of the theater necking session on the record last week.

AWOL Soldier Breaks Jail

WALNUT RIDGE, (UP) — An AWOL soldier broke jail here last night, stole a car and is believed heading toward Mexico.

Police said Lawrence Taylor, 18, AWOL from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., was arrested Saturday night in a car stolen in Missouri. Taylor told police at that time he was on his way to Mexico.

Early today, police found Taylor has tunneled out through one wall of his cell — and prised open a back door to the jail. Officers said he stole a car at Minturn, Ark., about seven miles south of here, and is believed to have broken into two stores at Alicia.

Highway 61 near Turrell, near Gould, a crop duster pilot died after his plane struck a power line and crashed Saturday. Fred Furumizo, 38, of Seattle, Wash., died at a Dumas hospital.

J. S. Draper of Emmet Rt. 1 Has 6½-Pound Bass Mounted

J. S. Draper, Emmet Rt. 1, caught this 6½-pound largemouth bass in a stock pond near Bodcaw Saturday, August 3. He used a spinning reel with 6-pound test line, and his bait was a red-and-white artificial worm. The fish was mounted by Prescott Taxidermist T. D. McBrayn, and the display was photographed over the week-end on The Star's photo-copy lathe, and engraved on the newspaper's leased Fairchild electronic engraver.

Mrs. Edgar Sharp Jr. said her family saw the plane flying at about 500 feet when the wind started tossing it. She said her 20-year-old daughter, Marilyn, saw parts of the wing and tail section fall off before it went into a spin and crashed about a mile from their home.

Two Killed in crash of Small Plane

MANDEVILLE, La. (AP) — A four-seater plane crashed in an isolated spot near here during a squally thunderstorm yesterday, killing the pilot and passenger.

Deputies in St. Tammany Parish identified the victims as Francis Van Alphen, 37, of New Orleans, owner and pilot of the plane, and Walter M. Negrotto, 38, of suburban Metairie near New Orleans.

Wreckage of the single engine craft was scattered over a wide area. One wing was found about a quarter of a mile from the engine.

Mrs. Edgar Sharp Jr. said her family saw the plane flying at about 500 feet when the wind started tossing it. She said her 20-year-old daughter, Marilyn, saw parts of the wing and tail section fall off before it went into a spin and crashed about a mile from their home.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration planned an investigation.

Negrotto, head of a New Orleans lumber company, was en route to Hot Springs, Ark., on business. He is survived by his widow and six children.

Van Alphen was in charge of sales for a balance firm in Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Oklahoma. A native of Norway, he moved to New Orleans from Chicago nine years ago. He is survived by his widow and three children.

MORE HO ONLY

Moscow to Publish Mrs. Stern's Novel

MOSCOW (AP) — A novel attacking American loyalty oaths, written by Mrs. Martha Dodd Stern, will be re-published here next year.

The 1956 publication list of the Soviet publishing house for foreign literature includes "The Searching Light" by Mrs. Stern, who was named recently as a Soviet agent by Boris Morros.

The U. S. Justice Department has reported that Mrs. Stern and her wealthy husband, Alfred K. Stern, fled behind the Iron Curtain after she was named by Morros, a Hollywood producer recently identified as a U. S. counter-espionage.

"The Searching Light" first published in 1953, criticizes requirements for loyalty oaths at American colleges.

Mrs. Stern is the daughter of the late William E. Dodd, U. S. ambassador to Germany from 1933 to 1938. Her first book, "Through Embassy Eyes," relates how she was attracted to Nazism when she went to Germany at the age of 23, then was repelled by it.
